

The commission expects to spend from a month to six weeks in the republic arranging a budget law, budgeting for executive departments and other phases of its task. It will also study the constitution of Domingo that the commission may fix its own compensation and expense. Mr. Dawes said the entire cost would not exceed $10,000.

An associate said the commission will be made up of about half the other members of the commission will pay their own expenses.

HUMANITY'S OLDEST MYSTERY SOLVED BY EASTER MESSAGE

Only the News From the Empty Tomb Outside of Old Jerusalem's Walls Gives Clear Tidings of a Life Beyond the Grave.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

"If that man could really answer the questions of his topic, there would not be an auditorium in all the world large enough to hold the crowds that would throng to hear him," commented one man to another, as they read an evangelist's announcement of an address upon "Where are our dead and what are they doing?" Tennyson voiced a universal human desire when he cried:

"Ah Christ, that it were possible
For one short hour to see
The souls we loved, that they Might tell us
What and where they be."

Death is as old and universal an experience as life. It is the greatest adventure of all, and the supreme mystery. Some persons dread it constantly; a well-known lecturer with whom I talked a few months ago had almost a paroxysm of terror as he spoke of his horror of dying. Most men simply put the subject out of their everyday thinking. Many Christians look forward to it with eager expectancy, as the solution of problems and the fulfillment of hope.

Whatever the individual attitude, the awesome experience of death awaits everybody.

Light on Darkest Subject.

No digging into archaeology's ruins has failed to reveal evidence that death has always engrossed life: from earliest times man has been concerned with the mystery of death. All philosophers have pondered the problem. It has been central to every religion.

Only Christ has given a clear teaching upon the topic, climaxed by the demonstration of His own victory over death. The whole structure of Christianity is built upon an empty tomb. Ours is a living faith today because Jesus died and rose again. Even the Cross would not avail without the Resurrection. The Good News which disciples of Christ have carried down the centuries and across the continents is that He arose, and is alive forever more; and that because He lives, we also shall live. Death's sting and death's victory have been vanquished by the Crucified Saviour whom the grave could not hold.

All sorts of candles and torches have been burned beside the biers of the dead; but they have not lighted the sepulchral darkness of the tomb. The only light that streams from the grave is that which blows from the new-cut cave of Joseph of Arimathea, in a garden outside the walls of Jerusalem, hard by a hill called Calvary.

If ever the church loses her faith in the Resurrection, she loses her very reason for existence; and substitutes a sterile philosophical speculation for a life-giving truth. The sage is no whit better off than the old pagan teachers who reduced human life to the level of the brute creation, deeming that a man dies as a dog dies. The Bible stakes the whole gospel upon the reality of the Resurrection of Jesus; and its cor-preacher who has no Easter message that death has been defeated by life; and that because He lives, we, too, shall live.

The Wonderful Fact-Story.

Geography sheds light upon history. To know the setting of a story is to understand more clearly the story itself. As I have reverently wandered, again and again, over the scenes of the life and death and Resurrection of Christ, I have found growing within me a strange, moving sense of the reality of it all. From the wall of the city, lying between the site of the trial of Jesus and the probable scene of His crucifixion and burial, I have reviewed the procession of events. I have watched the Easter sun rise over the Mount of Olives—just such a dawn as enwrap the women as they hastened down the hill to the sepulchre. Again and again I have examined a new tomb, once sealed by a rolling stone, which minutely meets the description of that given by Joseph of Arimathea for holiest use.

Amidst the real setting of the story, I have mused upon the accumulated evidence of the eyewitness who had met the risen Lord. In a variety of places, and to different individuals and groups, He made himself known, not as a ghost, but as a man who could partake of food and whose wounds could be handled. Well has it been said that there is no better attested fact of history than the appearance of Jesus after His death.

No other historical event has ever been subjected to such varied and constant and ingenious examination and attacks as the Resurrection. All the foes of faith have perceived that this is the central and essential citadel of the Christian position. After doubt and hate have done their worst, the Resurrection today shines sure and unshaken, the heart of the Christian religion. More people today accept the Easter story than ever before in the world's history; and the implications of this stupendous truth upon our lives are better understood and practiced.

A Truth that Leads to Life.

If Jesus really rose from the dead, as we believe, then all of life's outlook for mortals is different. For in the Resurrection truth is power for living. Death's pall is lifted; and we do not sorrow for our dead as those who have no hope.

It is easy in serene days to speculate proudly upon the problem of immortality; but when death enters one's circle of love, then all is changed. Last year I was leading a large and uncommonly intelligent Bible class of men in a discussion of the Resurrection; and at the outset I asked all who believed in personal immortality to raise their hands. Only one failed to respond, an educator, he saying that he had an open mind on the subject. Two weeks later that man came to me with tears in his eyes saying, "The afternoon of our discussion of the

ANOTHER NAME IS ADDED WORLD WAR MEMORIAL LIST

Another Navarro county boy who gave his life during the world war has been added to the list being compiled by W. H. Hastings and his committee securing the names of boys from this county who made the supreme sacrifice and to be placed on the memorial tablet. The latest name is that of Verna Franklin Truelove. He enlisted in Corsicana, trained in San Antonio, left New York for France, on June 19, 1918 and was with the 90th division. He died at Ft. Baird, New Mexico, August 9, 1919.

His name was given to the committee by his mother, Mrs. B. J. Jeffers, who also made a donation to the fund for the memorial.

Auto Owner Reports Stripping of Car

Will Toney, who lives in the oil fields near Mildred, reported to the police department Tuesday night that his Ford touring car was stripped while parked near the carnival grounds. Again and again the car was taken, and a quilt in the car was also carried off.

Two boys were found near the scene but were released after questioning.

A. Q. THORNTON INJURED.

While painting a house on his farm near Roane Tuesday afternoon, A. Q. Thornton of Corsicana fell from a ladder and his right arm above the wrist was broken. The ladder slipped, hurling him to the ground.

Resurrection, I had a telegram saying that my mother had died. If it had not been for our lesson that morning, I simply could not have stood the blow. Visiting with books and theories he had been unconvinced about a future life; in the presence of the death of his dearest he had hugged to his heart, as his only comfort, the truth and lives forevermore; and that with him our own dear dead dwell in the home that never breaks up, awaiting, as Jesus promised the group of friends He was leaving, a glad and abiding reunion.

All of life becomes different if death is not the end. Immortal spirits, in training here for eternity have the taste for eternity in this life. They cannot be content with small, mean, material satisfactions. Mightier than all laws and customs and restraints, to keep life pure and noble, is the consciousness that if we be risen with Him, we should seek those things which are above. The power of an endless life is the greatest force for the shaping of our present existence. Let Easter's message steal into the hearts of youth, and all the vexatious problems of the younger generation will be solved. Spirits that are not born to die do not wallow in the mire of filthiness. Great alms fire and thrill the hearts destiny to be wrapped up in that of the risen Redeemer.

Our greatest English-speaking poet since Milton, Tennyson, whose prodigious imagination soared all heights and sounded all depths, asked that at the close of every "Sunset and evening star,

And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of
The bar
When I put out to sea."

"But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out
The boundless deep

"Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of
When I embark;

"For tho' from out our bourne of

The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face,
When I have crossed the bar."

IOWAN IS VISITOR HERE; INTERESTED IN DAIRY TREND

Spot the sections where the dairy barns are most numerous and you have located the most prosperous agricultural sections of Iowa, declared G. G. Graff of Clarinda, Iowa, a visitor at the chamber of commerce Monday afternoon. After spending a number of years in Iowa, Mr. Graff is looking over Texas with the idea of locating in this state. Although in business for some twenty-five years, the visitor was for a time the secretary of the chamber of commerce at Clarinda.

Mr. Graff expressed deep interest in the growing dairy trend in Texas. He believes that a well developed dairy program is one of the most promising programs for the future of an agricultural section. Farmers in many parts of Iowa during the past generation have gone to seed on corn growing just as Texas farmers have practically confined their efforts to cotton, he explained. Those who stayed with corn alone have become poorer while those farmers who have diversified have become more prosperous, he said. The contrast between the one-crop Iowa farmer and the dairy farmer is striking—it leaves no question there about the desirability of having some good dairy stock on the farm, insisted Mr. Graff.

LOCAL OFFICIALS BELIEVE BASEBALL SITUATION GOOD

MATTER OF TEAM HERE DURING COMING SEASON BE SETTLED THIS WEEK

BY PAUL MOORE

A conference will be held sometime Friday between local officials and Col. Stewart, president of the Beaumont club of the Texas league with reference to the taking over of the Corsicana franchise by Beaumont on a "farm" proposition, but the time and place of the conference have not been determined, according to an announcement early Thursday morning.

Considerable money has been offered on a similar proposition Saturday but the deal apparently fell through and the local officials notified the Lone Star league club owners that the franchise would be surrendered Sunday. However, the Lone Star league officials stated that they wanted Corsicana in the league and that the franchise would be surrendered Sunday. However, the Lone Star league officials stated that they wanted Corsicana in the league and that the franchise would be surrendered Sunday. However, the Lone Star league officials stated that they wanted Corsicana in the league and that the franchise would be surrendered Sunday.

Will Have New Team.

Local officials have announced yesterday that they are not willing to have any deal consummated which will not guarantee to local fans a change in the baseball conditions here during the last two or three years. Corsicana is tired of a cellar club and if there is a club here this season, local fans are guaranteed that few of the players of former years will be seen in the Oiler uniforms.

In the event that the deal with Beaumont is carried out, Jimmy McElroy, well-known baseball man, and formerly with the famous Corsicana team in the old Texas league, will be the boss here. It is understood that the Beaumont club has a team of youngsters to put in the field and only a few pitchers and probably one infield man will be needed.

Almost Lost Club
Local fans came dangerously near losing baseball this year and now realize that if baseball is to remain here it is time for action. Had it not been for the fact that the Lone Star league faced the prospect of putting a team in a small town with a sure shot that the league would have lost heavily, the patience with Corsicana's stoniness in doing something would not have been endured and the franchise would have promptly been sold and transferred to another town. It is not a settled fact by a long shot that the Oilers will be in the league this year and it is time for action to get the club back. At the present time, the franchise and players are the property of the league, but the league officials are holding up the placing of the club in another city in order that Corsicana may have another chance to iron out the difficulties here and come into the league.

Corsicana has been one of the backbone clubs of every league in which a club was organized. Over league officials do not want to take a club out of a town that they know is a good baseball city and place it in a town where it might not go over.

When the committee calls on the fans, it is almost imperative that the response is made as the baseball situation in Corsicana is in a perilous situation. Let's keep a club for Corsicana in the Lone Star league.

Three Killed When Father Set Off Dynamite

SALEM, March 28.—(AP)—Taking his two small daughters, Charline, 4, and Gladys, 6, on his knees in the kitchen of their home at Grassy Pond, Charles Stetter, 38, touched off nine sticks of dynamite he had placed beneath the chair in which he sat. All three were instantly killed.

The house was wrecked and the bodies mangled.

Neighbors attributed Stetter's act to despondency over financial and family matters.

Just before the tragedy Stetter and his wife had been quarreling and she had gone to the home of his brother, 200 yards away.

Spurns Battle Challenge
JACO, Sonora, Mexico, March 28.—(AP)—General L. L. Gonzalez, commander of the federal garrison here, today announced he had spurned a charge from General Faustino Topete, rebel commander, camped with his troops ten miles away to "come out of your trenches and fight it out in the open."

The message was delivered by runner from the federal camp. Gonzalez and General Augustino Olachea, second in command, said they were perfectly willing to "sit tight."

Bob Carroll of Purdon was a Corsicana visitor Thursday afternoon.

Roaming the Realm —or— County Sports By DELMORE OLSEN

Looks like Corsicana is going to have a baseball team after all. The Lone Star moguls were loath to let Corsicana forfeit its franchise in the league and have allowed the local fans another chance to raise the funds to place a team on the field. Negotiations were resumed with Beaumont and Col. Stewart, president of the club, will meet with the local committee Friday to talk over the situation.

The Dallas Steers concluded their spring training in Corsicana Thursday morning. The entire team left here at 9:40 a. m. for Dallas, where they will engage a number of teams in exhibition games before the season opens April 16.

A galaxy of track and field stars from all parts of the United States will be present at the Texas and S. M. U. relays held here Saturday, respectively, of this week. The greatest track men present will be Paavo Nurmi, the "Phantom Finn," who will run against the runners the Southwest has to offer.

The State Home Lads relay team, composed of Davenport, Mullins, Harvie and Ellsworth, will compete in the high school mile and half mile relays at the S. M. U. relays in Dallas March 30. These lads have shown excellent time in practicing for the event and judging by their performance in practice, this relay team will furnish plenty of competition in these races.

Spring training is being held for the Corsicana high school football candidates each afternoon. Over 125 boys reported to Coach Pierce on the first day and from this number Coach Pierce is selecting the likely material and devoting his time with them. Two practice games have been arranged for the Tigers during the spring practice.

HUBBARD CAPTURED FIRST IN QUARTET OF EVENTS MONDAY

LADS WON EASILY BUT WERE NOT UP TO THEIR STANDARDS SET LAST WEEK

In a dual track and field meet held at the State Home Monday afternoon, the State Home Lads defeated the Hubbard track and field team by scoring 83 1-4 points to 51 3-4 by the Hill county aggregation during the track and field events. Hubbard presented a strong dash combination which took the 100 yard and 220 yard dash from the fast stepping Lads, Burditt, ace of the Hubbard cinder pounders, capturing first in these events. The only other first places taken by the Hubbard tracksters were in the 120 high hurdles and broad jump. The Lads were not up to the usual form and the time recorded on all events showed the Navarro county champs lagging over their performance during the county meet last Friday and Saturday. This would naturally be expected after a grueling two day meet. Hubbard is expected to win a number of events in the Hill county meet held in Hillsboro this week end, and this meeting of the two teams was watched with interest by both coaches, as their charges are to meet in the district.

For individual point honors, Burditt of Hubbard and Griffith of State Home tied with 17 each. Burditt placed first in the 100 yard dash, 220 dash, broad jump and third in the discus throw. Griffith won his points by winning first place in the shot put, javelin throw, discus throw and third in the broad jump.

Coach Fletcher of the Lads announced that the relay team composed of Davenport, Mullins, Harvie and Ellsworth had been entered in the S. M. U. relays held in Dallas March 30. This quartet of sprinters are due to show some class in the mile and half mile relays. Some excellent time has been recorded by these boys in practice.

The Dallas Steers have broken their spring training camp in Corsicana and the players who were left behind here Wednesday morning were ordered to report in Dallas Thursday morning. The Steers were scheduled to spend another week in Corsicana but after arriving in Dallas Wednesday, it was learned that the Chicago Americans were to abandon the Steer stadium as a training site early in the week and the remainder of the Steer club was ordered to report.

The players who left Corsicana Thursday morning at 9:40 o'clock were Ray Pierce, pitcher-outfielder; Gene Moore, pitcher; Phil Hensick, pitcher; Elmer Bray, pitcher; Earl Koster, outfielder.

CORSICANA, TEX., MAR. 29, 1929.

BIRDS.

Providing refuge for wild birds has become a more important means of preserving them than legislating against hunting. It is to be expected that during the open season the number of wild fowl will be greatly reduced. But a proportionate increase during the closed season, though hoped for, does not occur.

Urbanization of many broad regions has brought about destruction of lakes, swamps, streams and forests where birds breed and live and find protection from their enemies. The sweep of a forest fire, the draining of lakes and the consequent loss of shelter for game destroys more birds than even the unethical hunter. Where natural ponds have been reduced to alkaline pools which poison water fowl, the old sweet water must be artificially restored. Bringing back the natural conditions will encourage bird life. It is unnecessary to talk of importing birds to restored areas. Their instincts will bring them to the shelters. Every suburbanite and rural dweller knows how easily he can attract wild birds to his home by providing food, drink and protection for them regularly. A bird-house, pan of water and crumbs scattered upon the lawn will bring them. Working for the same thing on a large scale will prevent their disappearance from preserves.

Bird refuges are being established by the federal government at strategic points. A number of states are setting aside forests and lakes for the same purpose. The next logical step is the conversion of municipal parks into refuges for birds in migration and native wild birds. Why should the delight of close and constant contact with the feathered creatures be denied the city dweller?

ROAD ROOM PER CAR.

A writer in Atlantic Monthly for March gives 25,000,000 as the number of automobiles in use and 570,000 as the present mileage entered in the route books as paved automobile roads. From that he figures 44 yards as the average open-road allowance for each car and 88 yards as the average one-way open-road allowance.

It is hard to conceive of all the machines operating at once, or, granting that, to imagine them at once operating over the roads in the route books. There remain the city streets and the roads not entered as paved in the books. Yet, considering all the road building, 88 yards one way per car seems very little. Travel tends to concentrate at particular seasons and times on particular streets and highways. Hence the average figure helps to show why, so often, each fellow's share of space is much nearer 16 feet than 88 yards.

It gives sharp point to the question of what the average of clear road will be per car one year hence. Nearly 500,000 new cars and trucks were manufactured in February, and the rate may be still advancing. The problem becomes increasingly urgent, both in the cities and in the country. More and wider and safer highways, and the best possible development of city traffic plans, this latter with just protections for pedestrians, obviously must be provided.

EVERYDAY EVOLUTION.

The theory of evolution is very interesting, intriguing and all that, but the laity is inclined to find it too profound and mentally-fatiguing as a regular course of study and resigns the task to philosophers, archaeologists and scientists.

There is a commonplace and everyday phase of evolution that is constantly observed with keen interest by all. This popular evolution does not deal in light years, universes and rock strata but with the little changes in the habits of man and conditions of life which are constantly taking place everywhere.

A writer in Motor notes that the horse is no longer frightened by the automobile and locomotive. Less than 20 years ago automobiles took the ditch with shut-off motors while shying horses were led gingerly past by their drivers. If horses during the incipency of the automobile had an inherent fear of the gasoline buggy, they have since evolved an inherent heedlessness of its existence.

The much-maligned but more indulgent cigarette presents another intriguing example of everyday evolution. When the United States entered the World war the majority of cigarette smokers "rolled their own," but the signing of armistice found the American smoker buying his fags ready-rolled in packs. The evolution of smoking has virtually cast the once familiar cigarette paper into oblivion. For general year-around wear the low shoe is now almost without competition, although 15 years ago it was worn only in summer and by a minority of persons. The evolution of the automobile from the open model to the closed type is generally conceded. One need not seek far for many parallel demonstrations of contemporary evolution.

TWO SIDES.

There are two sides to every question. This is just as true in advertising as in an argument. In advertising there is the side of the advertiser and the side of the public.

From the viewpoint of the advertiser in the newspaper, advertising is a means of increasing his volume of business. Commercial development has made advertising as necessary to retail business as customers. Without customers the advertiser could not remain in business, so he advertises to attract customers.

The other side of the question is that of the public. To the public newspaper advertising means the bringing of the store show cases to the office and living room. It is a service extended to the public by the advertiser, because it aids the customer in ascertaining where that which is wanted can be purchased at the most advantageous price. Newspaper advertising has abolished shop-searching. To save time for the shopper lengthens his day.

So although there are two sides to newspaper advertising, there is no disagreement between the two. Finding that advertising serves the public as well as business the merchant has two reasons instead of one for advertising, and the customer learns that the most progressive merchants are the most extensive advertisers, so there is a double attraction. By the nature of business, if advertising didn't help the buying public it could not help the advertiser.

It's easy to trace customs to their origin. People bite money to see if it's good. In the early days Virginia leaf was used as money.

The good old world will be turning long after persons who think they know what is wrong with it have passed on.

An interesting exhibit should be the underworld booth at the 1933 world's fair in Chicago.

THE INTERLOCKING WORLD.

Since the rapid development of modern methods of communication and transportation the world has shrunk so that, with the people of the earth continually growing larger one nation, be it ever so small and apparently insignificant, cannot turn over, nor squirm, nor stretch, nor jounce out an elbow without jostling the other nations. Indeed, the interlocking relationships have become such a mazy network that it is not merely the adjacent nations on all sides which are affected by movement or movements of any given nation. But if one nation progresses, if it retrogrades, if it trembles with a convulsion, or expands with an effort or a development of any kind, all other nations, nearby and remote—even to the uttermost parts of the earth—are affected.

If one country were the sole producer or source of one necessary commodity and some disaster should reduce that production to nothing or wipe out that source, when the distributed supply in other lands should become exhausted the world would be affected in business and in living conditions by the famine in that one commodity.

And the same principle applies to nearly all articles of trade: Drought in areas in Asia has its effect on American business; a strike in England has its effect upon business in South America; legislation touching certain lines in America will mean much to Australia. The nations cannot live unto themselves—even in business. And through other interests the same principle holds with perhaps less tangible grip but with no less certainty of the fact. This is a world of people of one race of humanity—an ever-shrinking world as measured by natural or invisible ties that bind the tribes of men together.

John Coolidge says he is relieved because Hoover's sons are now in the limelight. But, with his father heading toward literary fame, John's publicity days may not yet be over.

Persia has revised and ordered the adoption of a new national costume. A garment bootlegging industry already has made its appearance.

The consensus seems to be now that the Sharkey-Striling fight was worth while as relieving the demand for any return bout.

Progress always hurts somebody. When men began to bathe every day, perfume manufacturers suffered.

APPLESAUCE.

When man began to wear soft collars and purple pajamas his downfall began, according to Dr. Charles Gray Shaw, professor of philosophy in New York University. He is becoming effeminate, while women, by taking a job outside the home and paying her own way at the theatre and the restaurant, is gradually usurping the masculine prerogative. And something has to be done about it.

We are not so sure that clothes make the man. In the Biblical story, Adam, the perfect male, and Eve, the perfect female, "sewed fig leaves together, and made themselves aprons," and it is not evident that Adam's apron was bifurcated, or differed in any way from Eve's. Later, "Unto Adam also and to his wife did the Lord God make coats of skins." Those who draw conclusions from the philosophy of clothes will have to get around these statements as best they can.

In the days of Charles II and Louis XIV, men dressed in silks and ruffles and wore their hair long and powdered. This fashion persisted for a couple of centuries, with no serious results.

As for women taking men's jobs, history is full of such instances. When the men went to war, women did the plowing. Joan of Arc led an army. Queen Elizabeth ruled a kingdom and swore. The list is too long to warrant the citing of numerous examples.

SNOOPVERSION.

It isn't often that the hard-pressed, hard-boiled and hard-headed financial experts in Wall Street find time or the disposition to break out in song. Yet one distinguished stock market authority, stung to eloquence by the heat of what was called the Hoover market, dashed off some verse aimed in an unfriendly tone at the Federal Reserve authorities. He sang of Volsteadism in banking and what he called the reserve's habit of snooping.

That may or may not apply fairly to the Federal Reserve officials. But no one looking about him will fail to see that it is likely to be a very handy word in the United States from now on. We are a snooped-upon people if ever there was one.

Mr. Coolidge, no doubt, will be greatly relieved to be able to visit the old New England farm without dressing the part and pitching hay.

Now that the Nicaraguan canal survey has been authorized, we shall probably need the marines to protect the surveyors.

Cotton Industry Using Standards To Boost Market

By FRANK I. WELLER
Associated Press Farm Editor
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Trade stabilization rather than new market outlets has become the hope of the cotton industry, delegates to the third Universal Cotton Standards conference revealed.

For years, they said, the cotton trader has sought additional markets to absorb the tremendous American crop. Now he hopes to hold and improve the market in a series of definite color and staple grades.

To systematize those grades for another two-year period, the conference, held biennially in Washington since 1923, was attended by representatives of nine leading cotton associations and exchanges of Europe, and by representatives of the United States department of agriculture and the American cotton industry.

The new official set of standards on which American cotton will be bought and sold throughout the United States and Europe was sealed and placed in the federal treasury, where for the next two years it will remain the absolute authority on cotton in commerce. Sixty-five "copy" sets of grade and color standards were distributed among the various domestic and foreign associations as their individual guide to sale and purchase. Cotton never is a perfect match, and any purchaser who believes his consignments is not of the grade for which his contract called, has recourse to arbitration on the basis of the international standards approved by the conference.

Prices here and abroad are quoted on the futures market and the exchange on the basis of standard grades, thereby serving as an index to supply and demand. In addition to stabilizing trade in the various grades, the standards minimize disputes over quality. Already, the delegates said, there have been great improvements in quality and handling. They believe it soon will be possible to fix a standard grade that will reflect the

ACTION PROMISED IN BUILDING ROADS IN NAVARRO COUNTY

CLAIMED SURVEY THRU CORSICANA PRESENTS WORST HIGHWAY PROBLEM

The Navarro county commissioners' court discussed various phases of the road building program with representatives of the state and federal highway engineering corps Tuesday afternoon after Judge Clay Nash had written a letter to State Highway Engineer Gilchrist concerning the delay of the road work in Navarro county. Division Engineer Woodward of Wave and Federal Engineer Carpenter of Fort Worth were present Tuesday and advised the court that the Highway No. 75 through Navarro county engineering work had been completed with the exception of a stretch two miles north and two miles south of Corsicana.

The engineers told the court that the passage through Corsicana was the most difficult engineering work that had ever been encountered in the road work of Texas, and that a great deal of time had been devoted to the project. Six surveys have been made and the location has not been definitely determined as the plans are now in Washington. Judge Nash is in receipt of a letter bulk of cotton going into export channels and make it possible to handle larger quantities without the tedium of discounts.

The standards set up a universal language for the exchange of cotton and broaden the international understanding of price and quality. International agreement on standards gives the same benefits to American cotton abroad. Ordinarily, 60 per cent of the annual cotton crop of the United States is exported. The highest crop on record is 18,000,000 bales. It usually runs approximately 14,000,000 bales. From 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 bales may be in export trade any year, according to the hold-over stocks on hand.

Negroes Arrested In Chicken Thefts

Through the efforts of Chief of Police Will S. Knight and members of the Corsicana police department, assisted by City Marshall Fuller of Kerens, three negroes have been arrested and lodged in the Navarro county jail in connection with a series of chicken thefts in the eastern part of the county recently.

All of the negroes are alleged to have made statements concerning the thefts to the chief.

ter from State Engineer Gilchrist, stating that he was looking into the matter of the continued delay. Judge Nash stated that he had advised the state highway officials that the bonds had been voided for two years and that Navarro county wanted the roads like they were promised them, and that they expected the state and federal departments to build the roads. Judge Nash stated Wednesday morning that he was of the opinion that the work would be rushed on Highway No. 75 and that actual construction would be under way within the near future. He stated that he would be after the officials in charge until the road work was under way.

Judge Nash stated that he did not know anything about the engineering work that the engineers stated had caused the delay in the route through Corsicana and probably wouldn't if they had explained it to him, but voiced the opinion that considerable surveys should have been completed, as the engineers had been working on the proposed route through the city of Corsicana for a long time, and that at that time, it looked like to him they could have done plenty of surveying.

MOODY SIGNS NINETY-SIX BILLS, NONE OF WHICH ARE OF ANY GENERAL INTEREST

AUSTIN, March 26.—(U)—Filing ninety-six bills which he had signed, some of them having been approved for a week—it was reavied—Governor Moody today reduced the number of measures on his desk unacted on to six.

There was no great general interest in any measures approved, many of them being of a local nature, including special hunting, fishing and road laws for certain counties.

He indicated that there would be some vetoes in the batch withheld and indicated at the same time that he would sign the Port Arthur bill, providing for remission of taxes for building a seawall.

He had taken no action on the Wirtz anti-bolter bill, the Sunday moving picture show measure, several bills relating to establishing experiment stations, or the proposed Corpus Christi district court and Greenville civil appeals court.

He approved four joint resolutions submitting proposed constitutional amendments. One of these would increase the governor's salary to $10,000 annually. Another would extend the legislative session to 120 days every two years and increase the per diem from $5 to $10. The others would permit the levying of taxes against Texas university lands in West Texas.

SNOWSLIDES SNUFF OUT LIVES; BOTTLE UP NEWS STORIES

DENVER, March 26.—(U)—Snowslides today had snuffed out at least four lives, bottled up the story of an attempted slaying and suicide, and isolated a half dozen villages along the Continental divide in Colorado.

Four men, trapped as they slept, were crushed to death yesterday when a slide crashed down a mountain and buried their cabin near Gunnison. The mining settlement of the Empire Chief mine, where the men were employed was wiped out, but others in the camp heard the roar of the slide in time to escape.

From the village of Naturita came meager details of the attempted slaying of John G. Blake, 60-year-old pioneer of that vicinity, by Mrs. Alice Scott, who committed suicide by taking poison. It was learned Scott was shot through the lungs.

At Alamosa, Colo., a search for a four-year-old girl that had disappeared over four hours, ended last night when 14-year-old Earl Bennett found Helen Duensing.

CRUDE OUTPUT FOR PAST WEEK SHOWS
HEAVY INCREASE

TULSA, Okla., March 26.—(U)—Adding approximately 13,728 barrels of light oil and 5,684 barrels of heavy oil daily, the total production in the United States during the week ending March 23 halted a downward trend in production and showed an estimated daily average production of 2,550,941, 19-42 more than the estimate for March 16, according to the current report of the Oil and Gas Journal.

Despite proration in effect in the greater Seminole area, Oklahoma fields added 27,705 barrels daily. West Texas lost 3,040 barrels. The total mid-continent production increased 25,226 barrels. California decreased 19,750 barrels. Gulf Coast, Southwest Texas, Eastern and Rocky Mountain areas all reported increases.

Humble Gets Good Well.
DALLAS, March 26.—(U)—The Humble Oil and Refining company's No. 5 Moses and Baggett in the Bruner field near Flowing has been completed, the flow gauging around 5,000 barrels daily. The well is remarkable in that it is an offset of the No. 4 well in the same tract which had to be plugged back to prevent it from becoming filled with water although it lacks eight feet of being as deep as the No. 5 producer.

Pipe line runs of oil from the Butcher field in Cooke county reached 4,300 barrels daily last week, the peak production in the history of the field.

The George L. Miller estate and the McGraw Oil company have sold wildcat acreage in nine West Texas counties to the Tidal Oil company for approximately $200,000. It was announced. Acreage in Howard, Midland, Glasscock, Borden, Martin, Andrews, Lynn and Garza is included in the sale.

Curtailed Effective.
TULSA, Okla., March 26.—(U)—Wells of twelve major companies operating in the greater Seminole area were shut in over Sunday, and production in the 24 hours ended at 7 a. m. Monday dropped to 205,242 barrels from 1,470 wells, a loss of 58,990 barrels under Sunday morning's gauges. The decline for the 48 hours period was 63,808 barrels.

Young Houston Attorney Gets Twenty Years

HOUSTON, March 26.—(U)—Thomas F. Whiteside, Jr., Houston attorney, today was convicted of murder by a jury which fixed his sentence at 20 years.

Whiteside was indicted after the death of his wife in 1927. He was sentenced to an 18-year term but the court of criminal appeals reversed and remanded the case because the term "homicide" was used, and "homicide" is not an offense in Texas.

The state contended that Mrs. Whiteside jumped from a window of the second story of the Whiteside apartment through fear of her husband. Her injuries resulted in death.

All parties that have not got their premises free of the fever ticks will have to dip every fourteen days until they get their premises free, also all that have stock running on the open range will have to dip every fourteen days.

SPANISH AVIATORS MAKE SUCCESSFUL HOP OVER ATLANTIC

RIO JANIERO, Brazil, Mar. 26. (AP)—The Spanish aviators, Ignacio Jimenez and Francisco Iglesias landed their plane, the Jesus Del Grand Poder, at Bahia, this morning completing a flight across the South Atlantic.

The aviators landed at the Aero postal field, "Camassary" at Bahia at 10:30 a. m. (8:30 Eastern Standard time.)

Bahia, or Sao Salvador, is on the northeast coast of Brazil, located about 800 miles north-northeast of Rio Janeiro, the goal of their flight. It is about 4,000 miles from Seville, Spain.

The aviators left Seville, Spain, in a secret take-off on Sunday afternoon at 5:42 o'clock (12:42 p. m. Eastern Standard time.) They had been in the air 43 hours and 48 minutes when they landed at Bahia.

The record established by Arturo Ferrarin and Carlo P. Delprette, Italians, was made on a non-stop hop from Rome to Brazil by way of the Cape Verde Islands, covering 4,600 miles in approximately 59 hours.

BIG GERMAN ZEP RETURNED TO BASE EARLY THURSDAY COMPLETED A VOYAGE FIVE THOUSAND MILES OVER EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, March 28.—(AP)—The dirigible Graf Zeppelin returned to her base here today, completing a voyage of 3 1-2 days and 5,000 miles over the Eastern Mediterranean to the Holy Land and return.

It was the second long cruise of the giant dirigible, and in mileage exceeded that of either the trip to America, or the return last year.

En route it passed over Lyons and Marseilles, France, Corsica, Rome, Messina, Corfu, Crete, Cyprus, Haifa, Jerusalem, Athens, then back along the Adriatic sea by way of Ounghia to Vienna, Ulm and Friedrichshafen.

The objection of the British government prevented the ship's passing over Egypt, but its master, Dr. Hugo Eckener, in messages back to Germany when he mentioned "unfavorable winds" which kept him from visiting that country.

Five Man State Road Board Ended In State Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 27.—(AP)—The state senate today passed a house bill providing for a state highway commission of three members and automatically abolishing the present five member commission. The measure is ready for signature of W. J. Holloway, who advocated it.

The incumbent commission was created at the request of Henry S. Johnston, who was removed from the governor's office last week by the senate court of impeachment. The commission's acts were the basis for much of the testimony as to the competence of Johnston, who was removed solely on the holding that he was incompetent.

Three Boys Held On Murder Charges For Van Alstyne Robbery

SHERMAN, March 28.—(AP)—Three youths, Jimmie Dixon, Robert Mason and Clifford Harris, the last only 16, faced murder charges today in the death of W. L. Echols, Van Alstyne night watchman, who died here Saturday of wounds received when he interrupted an attempt to rob a Van Alstyne bank. Dixon and Mason were arrested Monday near Coleman. Harris was taken near Dallas Tuesday night. Both Dixon and Harris were said to have made statements admitting participation in the Van Alstyne incident on their arrest. Dixon and Mason already faced charges of robbery with firearms in connection with an attempted filling station robbery Saturday at Coleman, in which Elgie Leslie was perhaps fatally wounded.

WILL DEDICATE KNIGHTS PYTHIA S HOME BUILDING

PYTHIAN HOME, WEATHERFORD, TEXAS

WEATHERFORD, March 28.—(Spl.)—On Sunday, April 7th, members of Knights of Pythias of Texas will assemble here to dedicate the home dormitory at the Pythian Home in honor of Henry Miller, for forty years Grand Keeper of Records and Seals of the order in Texas. The principal speaker will be P. O. Beard, Grand Chancellor with Mrs. Fannie Gordon of Dallas, Grand Chief of the Pythian Sisters, speaking in behalf of that organization. Other prominent Pythians throughout the state will be present and take part in the exercises. A suitably inscribed tablet in honor of Henry Miller will be placed in the boys dormitory and will be a perpetual memorial of the work he has done for the order and for the Pythian Home. The ritualistic service of the order will be a part of the dedication program.

This dormitory was completed in 1914, just west of the main building and was the second built of the three buildings that now constitute the plant of the Pythian Home. To the east of the main building is the girls dormitory, the three buildings being connected by archways so that students, teachers and employees may go from one building to another without being exposed in bad weather. It has been a little more than twenty years since the Pythian Home was established and during that time 418 children have been received in it, with 118 there at present, some 300 children having gone from its protecting care into the active affairs of life. There is not a record of one of these who has gone out from the Home who has not become an active and useful citizen, or who has done anything to reflect on the splendid training received in its walls.

Beautiful Site.
The selection of the location for this Home was an inspiration for there are few more beautiful sites for any public building in Texas. Crowning a gentle eminence the building looks out on a beautiful valley with rolling hills beyond. A few hundred yards south of the Home is the Bankhead highway, the "Broadway of America," along which rolls a constant stream of local and transcontinental traffic. There are two gateways facing this highway with a beautiful driveway connecting them, passing through the grounds and directly in front of the main building.

The 200 acres of land owned by the Home are ideal for its use. The drainage is perfect and there are excellent play ground around the buildings. There are 75 acres of land in cultivation and ten acres in orchards. The soil is adapted to growing wide variety of crops and is utilized in producing many things needed in the Home. A herd of 15 registered cows, hogs, chickens and turkeys help in furnishing food supplies for the Home and all these things give training to the children. In the practical affairs of life. Everything is done on the basis of one big happy family, but with a sufficient number of trained employees to look after tasks beyond the ability of the children or that might interfere with their school duties.

Competent Home Heads.
Since the fall of 1918 the Home has been under the supervision of Judge and Mrs. F. S. Heffner, as superintendent and matron. Judge Heffner resigned as county judge of Falls county before his term had expired in order to accept the position of superintendent. Both he and Mrs. Heffner have given their hearts and soul to this work. They have been father and mother to the children under their care. Judge Heffner is a man of wide business experience and he has been invaluable in financing the Home and in helping the directors shape its financial affairs. Only those consecrated to the service of MEXIA, March 27.—(Spl.)—A ratio of one milch cow and 100 laying hens to every acre of farm land was recommended as an ideal quote for Texas by Charles W. Weeks, California "one-acre farm" expert, who addressed the Mexia Lions club in a luncheon.

"You need only as much land as can be fertilized with the livestock you have," said Mr. Weeks. He advocated five, ten and 20—not over 40—acre farms for this section of Texas.

DESIRE TO WRITE BOOK CAUSED LITTLE GIRL TO LEAVE HOME

reason why she should not return home to lunch as usual. Her parents now believe that she had the trip well planned, and was attempting to cover her departure; she is reported to have announced her intention of going to Houston to a neighbor.

Announcing that she was going to school, the girl left home shortly before 8 o'clock Wednesday morning, leaving the impression that she was going to play basketball with the junior high team. For a time before her classes began, she did not go to school, however, and her parents became anxious when she did not return home for lunch and started a search for her.

Search Broadened
After exhausting the list of possible destinations in Corsicana, the parents appealed to the police department late Wednesday afternoon and another search was early in the morning. A number of private individuals took up the search, scouring the highways, some of them going as far as Waco, while others went to the Camp Fire Girls camp on the McKie ranch.

The last definite trace of the girl was presented by Little Misses Geraldine Sears and Pauline Story, who reported seeing the girl on South Fifteenth street in the morning. Various reports of children being picked up by passing motorists and carried to diverse places, caused a number of chases on cold trails.

Exhausting practically all clues about 11:30 Wednesday night, the parents returned home, after making preparations to broadcast a description of the missing girl, supplementing the report carried on the Associated Press wires early in the evening. In a short while, the ticket agent at Thornton railway station notified the parents that she was waiting for them there, and Mr. Treadwell, L. W. Love and T. L. Houston immediately left for Thornton, returning to Corsicana about 5 a. m.

As the search was going on the girl was walking and riding along the way to Houston, telling about six rides, with various stops along the route. After walking the greater part of the way between Groesbeck and Thornton, she was given a ride into Thornton by a motorist, who reported to the city marshal there that he believed the girl was running away from home.

Gave Assumed Name
When she was questioned by the marshal, Mary Emma gave an assumed name, and continued grilling failed to break her story. She was taken to a hotel and given her dinner. Overhearing men talking in the lobby about the "runaway girl," she became frightened and hid in her room. Finally she ventured out and disclosed her real identity to a Thornton minister, and her parents were notified.

Asked if she did not realize that her parents would be worried by her absence, the little miss said that if she had gotten her money for lunch, and had any reasonable luck she would have been in Houston by about 5 o'clock and would have wired them. When asked about lunch, she said that she stopped at a farm house south of Mexico and was given a glass of milk. Her only luggage on the trip was a tablet and pencil.

Mary Emma is a medium-sized, vivacious, blue-eyed brunette, with her brown hair cut in a boyish bob; she was clad in a grey-checked school dress when she left home. Her teachers in the junior high school were at a loss as to why she should leave home, declaring that she made good grades and had an unusually happy disposition.

After the family circle had been contacted, the girl's father said that she was informed that she could have all the paper, pencils and time that she wanted to write her "book," as long as she was content to remain at home. Within a short time after the case was reported to the police department, friends of the girl and her parents began to flock to the home, proffering their assistance in any way possible, and a number of friends remained with the anxious family until the news was received that the girl had been found.

CONTRACT IS LET FOR CONSTRUCTION NEW PARISH HOUSE

Contract agreed to by the building committee of the St. John's Parish for a new parish house was ratified by the vestry Wednesday afternoon and contract for the construction of the new building was awarded. John R. Cannon was awarded the general contract. C. A. Mullin was given the contract for the plumbing and Dickson Electric company was awarded the contract for electrical wiring. The three contracts total right at $20,000. The installation of heating units will be made later, the contract for the heating being deferred for the present.

The building will be two stories high, 33 by 80 feet, of materials and design similar to the church building and will be modern in every respect. Harry Blasing is the architect. Work of tearing the old building away, will start sometime next week and construction of the new building will start as soon as the ground is cleared. The old building has served the parish more than fifty years, first as a church and later as a parish house.

MOTHER SHOT AND KILLED BY ILLINOIS DRY OFFICERS WHILE AIDING HURT HUSBAND

AURORA, Ill., March 26.—(AP)—A mother was shot and killed last night by county dry officers as she bent over her husband who had been knocked unconscious.

The third member of the family, a boy of 9, then took up the battle with six deputy sheriffs and wounded one in the leg before he could be disarmed.

The deputies said the woman was shot because they thought she was reaching for one of the guns her husband had dropped when he slumped to the floor after being hit with the butt of a deputy's pistol.

The slain woman was Mrs. Lillian Deking, 40. The man clubbed into insensibility was Joseph Deking, 45. The son was Jerald Deking.

Three deputies had tried to raid the house, on the edge of town, earlier in the evening but Deking drove them off with a shotgun. They had a search warrant, sworn out after investigators had bought liquor there.

The officers went back to the sheriff's office, enlisted three more deputies and returned to the Deking home. Again they were met by Deking and this time he had two guns.

Deking was knocked down by one of the deputies. As he dropped to the floor, his wife ran to him. From a group of three deputies, came a shot and she fell, fatally wounded.

The son then grabbed one of his father's guns and before the deputies could reach him, fired at the group. Deputy Roy Smith was hit in the leg.

Port Arthur Boys
Held After Killing
Stepfather Monday

PORT ARTHUR, March 26.—(AP)—Two boys who shot their stepfather to death, ending a long period of feeling arising over the killing of their brother, were held today by authorities.

Martin Trahan, 15, and Gilbert Trahan, 22, had warned their stepfather, George Weghe, 55, to stay away from their home, they told the officers. Yesterday, he walked by the house and threw a letter on the front porch. Martin shot him with a pistol.

An ambulance came up to take Weghe to a hospital, but Gilbert, notified by his brother of the shooting, drove up in an automobile and fired five more slugs into the wounded man, as hospital attendants started to lift him into the ambulance.

A coroner's jury found the stepfather had been killed by the youths. Harvey Trahan was shot and killed about two weeks ago. Weghe was tried and acquitted.

SANTA FE PROMISES BUILD

AND OKLAHOMA FARM AREAS

DALLAS, March 26.—(AP)—That the quickening development of Western Texas and Oklahoma will find the Santa Fe railroad ready to build to meet the increasing transportation demands is the assurance given by officials of the road.

The outlook is for record-breaking yields in every line of farming in that region. F. B. Houghton, vice-president of the Santa Fe, declared yesterday on arrival here from a tour of the territory. He has been accompanied by J. S. Hersey, general freight agent of the line at Galveston.

"The most substantial agricultural territory on our whole system is the south plains country," Mr. Houghton asserted. "Many points are shipping butter and dairy products in carload lots to New York and Philadelphia. Their kaffir corn and kindred sorghums are being exported through Galveston to several continental countries."

Houghton said the Santa Fe was feeling its way toward extension of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient, recently purchased by the Santa Fe, toward Del Rio.

"There is every reason to believe the Santa Fe will build a line from Alpine to Presidio to connect there with the line in Mexico running to Chihuahua," Houghton said. "This will give a complete transportation line from Chicago to Chihuahua through Presidio."

Every piece of literature sent out in connection with the opening of the Corsicana Municipal airport on April 27-28 will be sent by airmail, officials in charge of the celebration have decided. This is the first time that this has ever been done as far as officials have been able to ascertain.

Stationery for the new project was delivered from the press late Tuesday and a large force was ready Wednesday to send out invitations to the leading luminaries in aviation circles to be present at the dedication ceremonies.

The letterhead is printed in the standardized red and blue of the "airmail" and the various organizations and chairmen of the various committees are listed. On the back cover page appears a map of the flying field, prepared by W. M. Elliott, surveyor, which shows the exact location of the field, along with a number of landmarks that will make identification easy, showing the direction of the prevailing winds and the landing fields and hangar, and the nearby highways. The plan shows all information that is needed by a flyer to locate the field and make a satisfactory landing.

On the inside of the letterhead is a two-page section of facts about Corsicana and Navarro county.

After the inspection of the flying field Tuesday afternoon, those in charge of the sending of invitations are in a position to know the number of planes that may be satisfactorily handled on the field. Plans are also being developed by Frank Lennon, chairman of the plane service committee, for the speedy replenishing of oil and fuel supplies for the visiting planes.

Gas To Be Supplied
Through the courtesy of the Central Texas Refining company of Corsicana, invited planes will be supplied with full tanks of gas and oil for their return trips, eliminating a large item of expense for the Navarro County Shrine club, underwriters of the project.

Through the courtesy of Jack Megarity, county commissioner, arrangements have been made to close the road past the airport for the two days of the opening, insuring plenty of parking space and also eliminating several hazards. Traffic will be routed by the old roads for the distance between the Ziona Rest church and the turn in the road just south of Corsicana County club.

Details are now being worked out for the grand parade to be staged on Saturday afternoon which is hoped will depict the evolution of transportation from the shoulder pack and ox-cart to the latest in airplanes.

Grading work on the landing field is being pushed as rapidly as possible, and the field is expected to be in first-class condition by the dates set for the opening.

AVERY MR. BILL PLANTER

DUST-PROOF Bearings

An AVERY PLUS Feature

Avery "quality" is the natural result of Avery ideals. One hundred years ago B. F. Avery built these ideals into the first Avery implement for you Southern farmers. And so deeply did he drive them into the core of this business that they have endured and grown. That is why Avery engineers, inventors, metallurgists and craftsmen think along lines of improvement. Why you have Avery Plus Features—things their manner of studying, designing and experimenting have produced—which make an Avery implement of any kind a better implement to own and work with.

For example, in the famous Mr. Bill Planter, a leader for 20 years, you find that the vital bearings are protected from dust and grit—as motor car bearings are protected, as the jewels of your watch are protected. It is an Avery Plus Feature; a product of the Avery system of thinking, planning, building; of Avery ideals; something Plus that makes Mr. Bill a better planter.

Avery Plus Features Save You Time and Money
Any Avery implement costs only what good quality is worth. These Avery Plus Features are extra time and money saving dividends which your implement money earns when you invest it in the Avery name.

VAN ZANDT COUNTY DISTRICT FARMERS REBUILDING SOILS

YEARS OF CONSTANT NEG- LECT HAD BEGUN TO TELL ON RICH FARM LANDS

WILLS POINT, March 26.—(Sp.)—After several generations have willfully wasted the soil of East Texas with no evidence of any thought of trying to preserve it, the people have at last changed their methods and adopted a program of soil conservation and soil building. While the county agents and other extension workers have taken the lead in this many other agencies have co-operated.

When the pioneers came here they found such an abundance of rich soil they gave no thought to the day when it would be exhausted. The population was sparse and the acreage large so it was thought that when one field failed to yield a fair crop it was only necessary to abandon it and move to another that was untouched. While the population was small and the demand for products limited this was all right.

But another day has come to this section and they have caught a new vision of greater things. The country has become densely settled and the demand for the choice products has spread afar. The old plan of waste and indifference is being abandoned and close study is being given to preservation of the soil and improvement of the products.

Many methods for this are being used chief among them being terracing to stop erosion of the soil. Formerly the land was plowed directly up the hillsides and the water was given a channel along which to carry away the best of the plant foods; now the rows are arranged so as to cause the water to flow slowly down the hill and deposit most of its silt in the land that is cultivated. In addition to the proper arrangement of the rows terraces are built at regular intervals to assist in holding the water back.

In addition to terracing many farmers are planting crops that may be plowed in and carry back to the soil all the food they have taken from it and the additional food it received from the air. Many of these crops are grazed by live stock and the droppings are plowed under as fertilizer.

Recently much interest has been aroused in commercial fertilizer and its use has become so extensive that many plants have been built in this section to supply the local needs. There was a time when this idea was ridiculed but now it uses is becoming almost universal in the sandy sections. It is now one of the big businesses of East Texas and is growing rapidly. It is found that the sandy land with clay foundation responds readily to this treatment.

The fertilizer plants are to be found in most counties and the distribution covers all sections. A single county, Van Zandt, used over 2,000 tons in 1928 and already more than that has been sold for 1929. This covered about 20,000 acres last season and is estimated to have increased the production from 5,000 to 8,000 bales of cotton beside other crops.

So thoroughly have the farmers become sold on the use of commercial fertilizer the plant here sold one firm 125 tons to put under 1,200 acres of cotton for 1929. This shipment took eight freight cars to handle it.

The results of this movement for soil preservation and soil building is to be seen in any portion of East Texas visited. The acreage production has been increased; the quality of products much improved and waste and want are being placed by conservation and contentment.

ART GOEBEL MAY ATTEND OPENING OF LOCAL AIRPORT

PRELIMINARY OUTLINE OF PROGRAM FOR BIG EVENT RECEIVED TUESDAY

Tentative acceptance of an invitation to attend the opening of the Corsicana Municipal airport was received Tuesday morning by telephone from Col. Art Goebel, Dole flight winner, and holder of other flight records, by W. C. Stroube, general chairman of the Corsicana aviation committee. Goebel is visiting at Love Field, Dallas, and at other Texas airports.

Preliminary outlines of the air program for the opening days was received Tuesday morning from Silliman Evans, vice president of the Texas Air Transport, who is acting as program director for the celebration with Charles Pedley and H. J. Nichols as his assistants. A number of cash prizes will be offered the visitors, and among the feature events will be dead motor landings, stunting, races—both free for all and by classes. Full details will be announced in a few days.

No effort is being made to stage a spectacular show that will endanger the lives of pilots and spectators, Mr. Stroube said Tuesday, but rather an exhibition of the progress of aviation, and the safety of flying.

Chairman Stroube accompanied by H. J. Nichols, O. M. Boynton and Frank Lemon, service chairman, visited the airport Tuesday afternoon and carefully surveyed the field to determine the exact number of planes that can be accommodated safely during the two days' celebration.

Officials in charge of the opening of the airport have the practical assurance of at least one Ford tri-motor plane being present, and other ers are being invited. A number of featured stunts are being planned in the big planes, among them a session of the city commission while flying above the city, and a number of other events.

Officials of the celebration have been considerably encouraged by the almost universal interest in well known flyers in the airport at Corsicana. Many of the flyers trained at Texas fields during the World War and remember their visits to Corsicana and are anxious to repeat them, and it is believed that a large number of visiting planes will be in Corsicana for the opening at least.

LONG IMPEACHMENT RESOLUTIONS GOES OVER TO MONDAY

WITNESSES WILL BE EXAMINED MONDAY NIGHT TO DE- CIDE ON IMPEACHMENT

BATON ROUGE, La., March 28.—(AP)—The impeachment resolution against Gov. Huey P. Long went over today until Monday night at 8 o'clock when the house of representatives will begin examination of witnesses to determine if it will impeach the governor on any of the nineteen allegations embracing a plot to murder and numerous alleged official irregularities.

A committee of twelve was appointed to formulate rules after an administration leader had failed in an effort to invoke a house rule to stop the investigation. He argued "the proceedings were out of order but neither the speaker nor the membership took official notice of his pleadings."

Senate Seeks Names.

While the house was deliberating the impeachment resolutions, the senate unanimously adopted a resolution requesting Governor Long to furnish the legislature with names of the legislators charged verbally by him and in a pamphlet distributed by the highway department with accepting bribes from the Standard Oil company to oppose the governor's proposed occupational tax on oil. The senate resolution also requested the names of the Standard Oil company financial agents, who were charged with paying the bribes.

The resolution adopted by both houses and senate, read:

"Whereas Huey P. Long in his radio speech and in a circular entitled 'Cross of Gold' this day put into circulation has charged in effect that the Standard Oil company of Louisiana has bought certain members of the legislature of this state for the purpose of crucifying him.

Standard Oil Enters.

"Be it resolved by the senate of the State of Louisiana the house of representatives concurring, that the governor be and is hereby requested to furnish the legislature not later than next Tuesday the names of all members of the legislature who have been bought or bribed by the Standard Oil company, or any other agents.

"Be it further resolved that the governor furnish the names of the financial agents of the Standard Oil company who have approached members of the legislature as charged by him in his radio speech on the night of March 21, 1929, over radio station KWKH by remote control from Baton Rouge, La.

The committee to formulate rules met immediately after the house adjourned, after electing Charles Roberts of Lincoln, chairman, adjourned to meet again Monday at 3 p. m.

House Leaders Plan Probe of Charges

BATON ROUGE, La., March 28.—(AP)—Leaders of the house of representatives of the Louisiana legislature planned today to sift impeachment charges against Governor Huey P. Long.

Included in the resolution of impeachment presented in the house on Tuesday were charges of high crimes in office, incompetency, corruption, favoritism, oppression in office and gross misconduct.

The last of the nineteen counts charged Governor Long with attempting to hire and induce H. A. (Battling) Bozeman, his former bodyguard and ex-prize fighter to murder Rev. J. Y. Sanders, Jr., who opposed a tax program fostered by the governor.

Since he failed to persuade the legislature to adjourn early this week, Governor Long has remained in seclusion while his friends in the legislature dwindling in numbers according to the roll call on points, fought his battles.

Anti-Long forces won by a landslide vote in yesterday's sessions of the house to start the impeachment move by overriding a motion to block because the governor did not include the subject of impeachment in his call for the special session.

Speaker John B. Fournet, regarded as a Long supporter, ruled the motion to take up the impeachment of the governor in order and the session ended orderly.

Legislature Will Adjourn Saturday

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 28.—(AP)—The Oklahoma legislature which has impeached four state officers during the present session and is considering other charges, agreed today on sine die adjournment at noon Saturday.

Governor W. J. Holloway, who succeeded to office when Governor Henry B. Johnston was removed last week by the senate impeachment court, plans to call an extraordinary session of the legislature later. It was the consensus of legislative leaders, however, that impeachment trials of the justices of the state supreme court should precede the legislative session.

It tentatively was planned for the senate to recess until April 15, when it would convene for the trials of Chief Justice C. W. Mason and Justices J. W. Clark and Fletcher Riley, and any other state officers against whom charges might be lodged during the remainder of the present session.

John Head, chairman of the house investigating committee, said today that the senate impeachment court, which was organized by the state board of agriculture, C. C. Childers, chairman of the corporation commission, and Fred Capshaw, member of the commission.

EYEWITNESSES TELL OF SLAYING BAPTIST MINISTER YEAR AGO

COMMUNITY KNOWLEDGE OF COOLING FAMILY FRIENDSHIP TOLD ON STAND

TYLER, Mar. 27. (AP)—Mrs. May Wilson, wife of Loys Wilson, on trial here for shooting to death Rev. Fount Wallace, Baptist preacher of Troup, Texas, last April, testified on the stand today of the insurmountable attraction the young preacher had for her, and told of their relationship.

In a soft, firm voice, Mrs. Wilson, the state witness for her husband's defense, told of the first time the minister kissed her.

"It was in the basement of his church early in the spring of 1927," she said.

As the attorneys pressed her for more details and information of a more intimate nature, she frequently wept and applied a handkerchief to her eyes.

"He came to our home in April and May of that year when my husband was away," she said. "I told Loys about it finally after he saw me kiss the minister, but I only admitted sexual relationship once."

"My husband and I parted. Later, he took me back on my promise to have nothing more to do with the minister."

"In the fall of 1927, Rev. Wallace and I planned to meet in Dallas but that fell through. We met later in Tyler, however, and stayed together there."

"On the afternoon of the shooting, I saw Rev. Wallace on the street and waved at him. When I got home, my husband said, 'I thought you promised to put him out of your life.' 'I replied that I just couldn't do it, and he rushed out of the house, shouting 'I can't stand it.' 'Later in the day, he came home and said to me, 'Oh, Mary, I've shot that preacher.'"

TYLER, March 27.—(AP)—The cooling of friendship between the families of the Rev. Fount Wallace, Baptist minister of Troup, and Loys Wilson, Troup garage man, as noted in the community was brought out on the witness stand here today in the trial of Wilson on charges of murdering the minister last April.

Dr. A. S. Jarvis, physician who attended the minister immediately after he was shot on the sidewalk in front of the A. D. Tarbuton store, testified that the community knowledge of a temporary separation of Wilson and his wife in 1927. Before that time the Wallace family frequently visited the Wilsons, and Mrs. Wilson was a visitor at the Wallace home, he said. The Wallaces also used to go riding in her car.

After Wilson and his wife returned, the doctor said he never saw Wallace with Mrs. Wilson again. The physician told of attending the minister after the shooting.

Tarbuton, owner of the drug store, described the shooting. "Wilson drove up in his wrecker from the garage," Tarbuton said. "Wallace was talking to several persons on the sidewalk in front of the store. Wilson said, 'All right, brother, prepare to meet your God.' The shot rang out almost as Wilson spoke."

It was brought out in Tarbuton's testimony that Mrs. Wilson had been an active worker and was a singer in the choir in the Baptist church of which Wallace was pastor.

The courtroom was packed as Miss Margaret Floore of Troup, the first witness, told of the minister's death. Several girls were showing the minister some Kodak pictures, she said, and Wilson approached the group. Her testimony was practically the same as Tarbuton's in regard to what Wilson said and the shooting.

Miss Floore, and Miss Agnes Tarbuton, who followed her on the stand, described Wallace as a good looking, blonde young man who was interesting and had a good personality. He was 26 years old.

The defense attorney endeavored to bring out from Miss Tarbuton testimony that the minister reached for his pocket as Wilson approached, but she insisted the minister was holding a picture in his hands when Wilson approached the group and shot.

The state rested its case shortly before 11 a. m., after presenting these witnesses, and Judge J. R. Warren ordered a recess to allow the defense time to confer with witnesses.

TEXAS FARMERS EXPECT TO INCREASE ALL FEED CROPS IN 1929 EXCEPT CORN-HAY

AUSTIN, March 27.—(AP)—If Texas farmers intentions are correct this year there will be increases in all feed crops except corn and hay, says a prospective crop report issued here by the United States department of agriculture division of crop and livestock estimates. The report indicates there will be decreases in the acreage of potatoes, rice and peanuts.

"Acreage of principal crops this year, excluding cotton, amounts to 12,423,000 compared with 12,198,000 acres last year," the report said.

"Preparation of land is backward in parts of the north, northeast and central districts owing to interference of rain. Farmers in some localities are several weeks behind with their work, but in the state as a whole there is a very good prospect for spring crops."

Based on farmers' intentions, the report adds that corn acreage will show a reduction of about 9 per cent compared with 1928; the oats acreage is estimated at 105 per cent of that harvested last year, and grain sorghum, per cent greater. Rice acreage shows a decrease of 10 per cent.

"Because of national legislation specifically prohibiting reports on prospective cotton acreage no information on this crop was solicited," said the report.

MURDER CHARGES ARE FILED AFTER MAN'S STATEMENT

COLEMAN, March 27.—(AP)—Murder charges were pending today against Denny Dixon, who officers said, made a statement late yesterday admitting participation in two attempted robberies last week in which one man was killed and another injured probably fatally.

Dixon and an alleged companion, Robert Mason, were arrested by a sheriff's posse near here Monday. Dixon was transferred to the Ballinger jail last night for safe keeping.

Authorities said Dixon admitted emptying his pistol toward W. L. Echols, night watchman, wounded fatally when he forestalled an attempted bank robbery at Van Alstyne.

Dixon was said also to have admitted participation in the filling station robbery here two nights after the Van Alstyne affair, in which Elgie Leslie, station operator, was wounded. Charges against Dixon probably will be withheld pending the outcome of Leslie's wounds.

A third suspect in the Van Alstyne slaying, a youth of 16, was arrested last night near Dallas. He was said to have made a statement admitting he was a member of the gang that shot Echols.

PONCA CITY MAN DIES. PONCA CITY, March 28.—(AP)—Charles F. Martin, president of the Ponca City board of education and former official of the Marland Oil company, died here today after an illness of a day and a half.

Fount Wallace, sat in the court room with five-year-old Patsy Wallace, daughter of the man Wilson was accused of murdering, on his right side. He was there when J. P. Adams, a farmer, was chosen as the twelfth juror early today.

At Wilson's side were a brother and a cousin, Rep. A. S. Johnson of Winona who defeated the Elder Wallace for his seat in the Texas state legislature.

Because of the large crowd that lined the walls and packed the aisles, Judge Warren prohibited smoking and instructed the sheriff to keep the passageway clear.

Jury Is Secured. TYLER, March 27.—(AP)—Nine farmers and three merchants were on the jury which heard testimony in the Loys Wilson case start here today. Wilson is charged with shooting to death Rev. Fount Wallace of Troup last April.

A new venire of 15 was ready when court opened today, and the second man questioned was J. F. Adams, a farmer. He was accepted by both sides as the twelfth juror.

Completion of the jury was the aftermath of a plea by the defense yesterday for a change of venue after 116 venires had been quizzed and only two jurors obtained. The judge denied the request, and the jury was almost complete by the time court adjourned last night.

Wilson, a garage mechanic, and married, shot Rev. Wallace to death as the minister stood in front of a drug store conversing with friends. He drove here and surrendered.
